EDWARD GILLET,

Southwick Nurseries, SOUTHWICK, MASS.
DEVOTED to the scientific, practical and beautiful in Horticulture, Landscape Art and Forestry. Its contents are original throughout, of the highest literary character, and include descriptions of new plants, information and advice for in-door and out-door planting and cultivation, descriptions of country-seats, parks and rural scenery, with vigorous editorial discussion of all subjects embraced in the scope of the paper.

Its writers are authorities in their lines and the illustrations are very artistic.—Springfield Union.

The arbiter in matters of taste involving trees, flowers, parks, and the laying out of grounds.—Boston Transcript.

Easily the first paper that has ever undertaken to journalize the literature of the garden and the woods.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Its arrival is the coming of a wise and intelligent and entertaining friend, who enables us to live more happily because more harmoniously with nature.—Harper's Weekly.

The foremost journal of its class, keeping in touch with every advance in the scientific, artistic and practical phases of horticulture and arboriculture.—Boston Herald.

Beautifully illustrated. Published weekly. $4.00 a year.

come to you this season in a new form, trusting that the change may be acceptable, and that the illustrations may add a new charm to the little offering. Good Cuts of many of our Wild Flowers cannot be procured. We hope in the near future to be able to present to our friends a variety of illustrations which may greatly aid in selecting plants for the Border, Rockery, Fern and Water Garden.

The most of these plants are grown here in our grounds, which are adapted for growing this class of Plants. The Herbaceous Perennials gathered in shady situations are put into our shady corner, and one can here find rarities gathered from the Rocky Mountain passes, the dark woods of Maine, and the dreary swamps of Florida.

In ordering this class of Plants we would advise having them sent by express (where the distance is not too great), because more care can be taken in packing, and we often add extras that would not be sent by mail. Small orders can be sent safely by mail, and with our mode of packing are almost sure to reach their destination (even to Europe) in good condition.

The prices here named are for free delivery to any part of the United States or Canada on Plants suitable for mailing. There are but very few Shrubs in our list suitable for mailing.

Collectors are requested to put themselves in communication with me, as I desire to add new or desirable plants to my trial grounds.

Parties desiring plants in larger quantities than here quoted will please write for quotations.

Do not ask me to send goods C. O. D., unless one-third of the amount, to cover expenses, is sent with the order. Send all remittances by draft on New York, Boston, or by Registered Letter, or by Post-Office Money Order on Westfield, Mass.

Address all communications to

A CARD. + + + + + +

This is to inform our many friends and patrons that Mr. Horsford has sold to me his whole interest in the Southwick Nurseries, and it will hereafter be conducted in my own name. Circumstances attending the death of Mr. Horsford's father have made it necessary for him to return, for a time, to his former home in Charlotte, Vt. I have therefore purchased, with the agreement that he will offer no Plants for sale under two years. This terminates a short but agreeable partnership.

PLANTS FOR GROWING UNDER EVERGREENS.

I am often asked for a list of plants desirable for growing under evergreens, especially pine trees. I would suggest as a beautiful evergreen creeper Mitchella repens (Partridge Berry); this will thrive in almost any situation, either very dry or very wet. Try it in any place except the open sun. The bright red berries add a charm in winter, and in summer the dark green leaves look cool and inviting; it forms large mats, and when established is always beautiful. The following are also desirable for growing under evergreens: Cornus Canadensis, Pyrola rotundifolia, Smilacina biflora, Cypripedium acaule, Goodyera pubescens, Goodyera repens, Spiranthes gracilis, Aspidium marginale, Dicksonia punctilobula, Osmunda Claytoniana.

For lake borders and along brook courses, only those plants are here named that are especially adapted for growing in very moist places. The first plant that meets our eye along our New England brooks is the cardinal flower (Lobelia cardinalis); it grows in shallow water or along the bank, where its roots can suck up the moisture from below. Its boon companion is the closed blue gentian (Gentiana Andrewsii); this forms in little clumps just above the water, and in late autumn the little pencils of blue, an inch long, are very prominent in its native home. A list can be added that will add grace, beauty and variety to the scene: Arisaema triphyllum, Asclepias incarnata, Clintonia borealis, Coptis trifolia, Cornus Canadensis, Dentaria diphylla, Erythroniums, Irises, Mertensia, Mitchella repens, Polygala puncfifolia, Stylophorum diphyllum, Trilliums, Viola cucullata, V. canina var. sylvestris. Cypripedium pubescens, C. Spectabile, Adiantum pedatum, Aspidium acrostichoides, Asplenium Filix-femina, Onoclea sensibilis.

Aquilégiæ—Aquilegias, a beautiful collection of hybrid aquilegias, red, white, blue, yellow and purple, 15 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

Larkspurs—A beautiful collection of Perennial Larkspurs from the Imperial Gardens of St. Petersburg, tall growing species, six feet or more, with great spikes of flowers in a variety of shading of color from almost pure white to dark blue or purple, and low growing species with finely cut leaves; flowers graceful and finely tinted. Perfectly hardy. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen, $6.00 per hundred. (See cut on last page of cover.)
HERBACEOUS PERENNIALS.

Wild Flowers of the United States.

The prices quoted on our Herbaceous Perennials are for free delivery in the United States or Canada. (This does not apply to Shrubs.) Where it is possible I would advise having the plants sent by express, as I can send in many cases plants that are too large for the mails, and I add plants to cover express charges.

ACTEA alba (White Baneberry)—A fine perennial found in rich woods, with a raceme of white flowers, followed by the white fruit. Fine for rock work or the shady corner. 20 cents each.

repens—A low plant, with large rose-purple flowers. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

PODOPHYLLUM peltatum (May Apple or Mandrake)—A perennial herb, with creeping root stalks and fibrous roots. Grows a foot or more high, with large, round, 7 to 9 lobed leaves, peltate in the middle. Flowers nodding, white, 1 to 2 inches broad. 20 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

POLYGALA pacifica (Fringed Polygala)—A low growing and interesting plant. Leaves of a delicate purple that, large and handsome rose purple flowers, beautifully fringed. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

Senega (Seneca Snake-root)—This plant has two or more stems from a thick root stalk. Grows 6 to 12 inches high, bearing a raceme or spike of small white flowers. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

POLEMONIUM repens (Greek Valerian)—Forming clumps. Leaves pinnate. Flowers blue. 15 cents each, $1 per dozen.

PRIMULA Mistassinica (Small White Primrose)—A low plant 2 to 6 inches high, with large flesh colored flowers. Very desirable for the rock garden. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

PYROLA elliptica—A low plant, with shining evergreen leaves, and white flowers in June. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

rotundifolia (Round Leaved Pyrola)—Somewhat larger than the last. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

rotundifolia var. alpinosa—A charming little plant, with rose or flesh colored flowers. From Vermont. 20 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

POLYGONATUM biflorum (Smaller Solomon's Scaal)—1 to 2 feet high, flowers greenish. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

RHEXYA Virginica (Meadow Beauty)—A low perennial, less than a foot high, with numerous bright purple flowers. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

RUGOSUM—A low species with smaller flowers. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

SABATIA chloroidea (American Centaury)—A foot high, with a beautiful large rose-colored flower at the top. Delights in a wet, mucky soil. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

SANGUNINARIA Canadensis (Blood Root)—A low perennial, about 6 inches high, bearing from the root one or more large reniform or heart-shaped leaves, and one or more leafless stalks, bearing a single pure white flower an inch in diameter in early spring. 20 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

SAXIFRAGA Virginiensis—A low perennial, 4 to 9 inches high, with a clustered cyme of pretty white flowers, appearing in early spring. Pretty for rockeries. 15 cents each, $1 per dozen.

oppositifolia (Mountain Saxifrage)—A pretty alpine species from Mt. Mansfield. A low, tufted, leafy species, forming little mats or tufts. Flowers large, solitary, coming out in early spring. Grows on wet rocks. 30 cents each.

Saxifraga aizoon—This species is also alpine in its nature, growing with the preceding. The leaves are clustered at the base, from which comes a many-flowered scape 4 to 12 inches high, bearing a cluster of cream-colored flowers. 25 cents each.
SILENE Pennsylvanica (Wild Pink) — Low, 5 to 8 inches high. Flowers clustered, short stalked, pink in color. 15 cents each; $1.10 per dozen.

Duglasii — A pretty little plant from the Rocky Mountains, with pink flowers. 25 cents each; $1.50 per dozen.

Virginica (Fire Pink) — This, although a native of the U. S., is one of the finest, and deserves a place in every collection. It delights in a well drained soil, and when well grown is about a foot high, well branched, and bearing large, crimson flowers. Try it. 15 cents each; $1.15 per dozen.

stelligata — White, fringed flower. 15 cents each.

SILPHIUM laciniatum (Compass Plant) — A tall plant, 3 to 6 feet high, found on the western prairies. Flowers yellow, resembling a small sunflower. 25 cents each; $1.50 per dozen.

Symphytum officinale (Prarie Dock) — Resembling the last, yet larger. 25 cents each; $1.50 per dozen.

SISYRINCHIUM Bermudiana (Blue-eyed Grass) — Leaves grass-like and blue flowers, forming little clumps, will adapt itself to nearly every kind of soil or situation. 15 cents each; $1 per dozen.

SIMULICA biflora (Sweet White Smilacina) — A delicate little wood plant, with 2 or 3 shining green pointed leaves, and small sweet-scented white flowers in early spring. Border or rock garden in partial shade. 15 cents each; $1 per dozen.

racemosa (False Spikenard) — 1 to 3 feet high. Flowers small, white, in a raceme. Plant in a moist, shady place. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

stelligata — About a foot high, with a few dark green leaves along the stalk, and a raceme of small white flowers at the top, followed by the green berries striped with dark red, the whole berry turning red when ripe. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

SOLIDAGO (Golden Rod) — This is an attractive genus of plants, with a large number of variable species, some of which are very beautiful. They come into flower a little before and with the Asters, and with them add much to the bloom of autumn.

casina — A slender species 2 to 3 feet high, with quite thin leaves, and small yellow flowers in little heads along the stalk and branches. Shady places. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

cassata — Leaves narrow, 2 to 4 inches long. Flowers in a flat cluster at the top. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

nemoralis (Short Golden Rod) — This is one of the smallest Golden Rods of New England, being no more than 4 inches high in many specimens, with a cluster of bright yellow flowers at the top. Plant in a sterile sandy soil to get the smallest. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

odorata (Sweet Golden Rod) — This species grows about 2 feet high. Leaves bright green, having a sweet aromatic taste, and odor like anise. Flowers of a darker yellow than in most species. Dry shady places. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

STREPTOPUS roseus (Twisted Stalk) — 6 to 20 inches high. Flowers small, rose-purple. Grows in cool, damp woods. 20 cents each; $1.20 per dozen.

amplexifolius — Leaves smooth, clasping the stalk. Flowers greenish-white. Moist shady places. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

STYLOPHORUM diphylIum (Clandine Poppy) — This is especially desirable for the open border, growing about a foot high in large clumps. The leaves are dark green and deeply lobed. Flowers large, yellow. 25 cents each; $1.50 per dozen.

SYNTHYSIS reniformis — 25 cents each.

THALICTRUM (Meadow Rue) — anemonoides (Rue Anemone) — This plant grows about 9 inches from a cluster of thickened tuberous roots. Flowers in umbels, white. 15 cents each; $1 per dozen.

dioicum — 1 to 2 feet, with purple or greenish flowers. 15 cents each; $1.10 per dozen.

cornuti (Tall Meadow Rue) — 4 to 8 feet high, bearing a compound panicle of white flowers. Wet meadows. 25 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

purpurascens — Similar to the last, yet the stalks are purplish. 25 cents each; $1.50 per dozen.

TIARILLA cordifolia (False Miterwort) — About 10 inches high, bearing a short raceme of pretty white flowers. 15 cents each; $1 per dozen.

TRADESCANTIA Virginica (Spiderwort) — An old garden plant, well known for its long grass-like leaves, and blue or violet flowers. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

pilosa — Resembling the last in growth; the leaves are lanceolate, and flowers bluish-purple. 20 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.

TRILLIUM (Three Leaved Nightshade) — A class of low perennials, having a stout and simple stem from a tuber-like root, naked, and bearing at the top 3 or 5 ample leaves in a whorl and a terminal flower. They belong to the lily family, bloom in early spring, and are easily grown.

cervinum — Is about the same size, with a smaller nodding white flower. 15 cents each; $1.10 per dozen.

grandiflorum — Probably the prettiest of the genus, and more generally cultivated. It grows 8 to 15 inches high, bearing a large white flower, often 2 to 2½ inches in length and 2 inches wide, turning to lilac color with age. 15 cents each; $1.10 per dozen.

erectum — Has broader, rhomboid leaves with a dark purple flower. 15 cents each; $1.10 per dozen.

erectum var. album — A variety with white or greenish white flowers. 25 cents each; $1.25 per dozen.
TRILLIUM GRANDIFLORUM.

nivale (Dwarf White Trillium)—Small. 2 to 4 inches high. Petals white. Very early. 20 cents each. $1.50 per dozen.

petiolatum—A low large-leaved species from Oregon. Flowers purple. 15 cents each. $1.25 per dozen.

recurvatum—Leaves green with white patches; flowers brown purple. 25 cents each. $1.50 per dozen.

sessile—1 to 12 inches high. Flowers dark purple. 15 cents each. $1.25 per dozen.

sessile var. Californicum—From the Pacific coast. 25 cents each, $2 per dozen.

stylorum—Rare. A fine species from the South, with white or pinkish flowers. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

TROLLIUS laxus (Globe Flower)—Flower similar in appearance to a buttercup, but larger. Plant in a moist, shady place. 15 cents each. $1.25 per dozen.

UVULARIA grandiflora (Large Bellwort)—Generally about fifteen inches high, forking above, bearing numerous membranaceous leaves, and yellowish, drooping flowers. Frequently more than one stalk from the same root. Blooms in early spring. 15 cents each. $1.10 per dozen.

perfoliata—Smaller than the last, and leaves more clasping on the stalk. 15 cents each, $1 per dozen.

sessilifolia—Similar to the above, only the leaves are sessile instead of clasping. All these Uvularias are easily cultivated, and are quite pretty. 15 cents each, 25 cents per dozen.

VANCOUVERIA hexandra—A fine leafy plant from Oregon, with rather large wheel-shaped white flowers. 20 cents each. $1.25 per dozen.

VIOLA—The wild violets are for the most part among our first spring flowers. They furnish an abundance of bloom and variety of color, and are so easily grown as to be worthy of a place in every wild garden.

Canadensis—18 1 to 2 feet high, with heart-shaped leaves and whitish flowers tinged with purple. 20 each. $1.10 per dozen.

cucullata (Common Blue Violet)—A strong growing plant from a thickened or tuberous root; stemless; each leaf and flower stalk on a long stem from the root. Flowers deep or pale violet-blue or purple. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

renifolia—A pretty, white-flowered species, somewhat resembling V. Blanda, with broad reniform leaves. 20 cents each. $1.50 per dozen.

rostrata (Long-Spurred Violet)—3 to 6 inches high. Flowers pale violet or purple. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

pubescens—6 to 12 inches high. Flowers yellow, veined with purple. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

rotundifolia—Low, 2 to 3 inches high, with yellow flowers in early spring. 15 cents each. $1.10 per dozen.

sagittata—15 cents each, 25 cents per dozen.

blanda (Sweet White Violet)—Flowers slightly fragrant. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.
canina var. sylvestris (Dog Violet)—This is a pretty, many flowered violet, blue in color, branching and forming little clumps. Moist, shady places. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

pedata (Bird's Foot Violet)—Leaves all divided. Large, handsome, pale or deep purple or blue flowers in summer. Delights in a dry sandy soil in open sun. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

pedata var. bicolor—A beautiful variety of the above, with two leaves of the flower violet colored. Does nicely in a sandy loam soil in partial shade. 20 cents each, $1.35 per dozen.

primulifolia (Primrose Leaved Violet)—A smooth, stemless violet with white flowers striped with blue. Moist soils. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

XEROPHYLLUM asphodeloides—Found South in sandy places, with white showy flowers in racemes. 30 cents each, $1.75 per dozen.

YUCCA filamentosa (Adam's Needle)—The dark green leaves, 1 to 2 feet long, clustered at the base, about an inch wide in the center, running to a sharp point, the edges splitting off into little hairs 1 to 4 inches long. The flowers are large, creamy white, borne along the stalk, near the top, 3 to 6 feet high. Very ornamental on the lawn. 40 cents each, $2.50 per dozen.

ZYGADENUS venenosus—1 to 2 feet high, with blue flowers. 25 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

elegans—1 to 2 feet high. From Oregon. 25 cents each, $1.75 per dozen.

3 to 6 feet high. Very ornamental on the lawn. 40 cents each, $2.50 per dozen.

XEROPHYLLUM asphodeloides.

YUCCA filamentosa.
ACORUS Calamus (Sweet Flag)—Grows in low wet places. Leaves light green, 1 to 3 feet long. The root stalk has an aromatic flavor, well known to people of New England. Flowers small, inconspicuous, in a short spike. Desirable for shallow lakes or wet places, yet it will grow in a moist garden soil. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

BRASENIA peltata (Water Shield)—An aquatic, growing in 1 to 6 feet of water. Leaves entire, floating, 1 to 3 inches broad, greenish or purplish. Flowers small, dull purple, appearing on the water's surface. 15 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

CALLA palustris (Water Arum or American Calla)—A bog plant resembling the cultivated Calla in both leaf and flower, only smaller. 6 inches high. Plant near water, or mulch with Sphagnum Moss and keep wet. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

CALTHA palustris (Marsh Marigold)—6 to 15 inches high. Leaves large, heart-shaped. Flowers bright yellow. A very showy plant. Found in swamps and wet meadows. Fine for forcing in pots, or a wet place on banks of streams or lakes. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

leptosepala—About 8 inches high. Leaves from the root. Flowers white, tinged with purple. 25 cents each, $2 per dozen.

DARLINGTONIA Californica (California Pitcher Plant)—A fine bog plant, found in cool springy places in California, with peculiar shaped pitchers and nodding purple flowers. Mulch with Sphagnum Moss through the summer and give a good covering of leaves for winter protection. It can also be grown in pots. 50 cents each.

DIONEA muscipula (Venus' Fly Trap)—Flowers white; pretty. 25 cents each, $2.25 per dozen.

DROSERA filiformis (Thread-leaved Sundew)—A little bog plant with long, thread-like leaves, covered with short red-colored hairs. Flowers rose-purple, along the upper part of stem. 4 to 8 inches high. Wet, sandy soils. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

DROSERA rotundifolia (Round-leaved Sundew)—Found in wet sandy places near water, and in Sphagnum Moss. Leaves roundish, covered with red hairs. Flowers white. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.
longifolia—Similar to the above, only the leaves are narrower. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

ELODES Virginica (Marsh St. John’s Wort)—A bog plant a foot high with leaves clasping the stalk. Flowers flesh colored, in little clusters from the axils of the leaves. 15 cents each, 81 cents per dozen.

JUNCUS effusus (Bog Rush)—Stem round, dark green, 2 to 4 feet high, bearing near the top a cluster of small, inconspicuous flowers. Desirable for wet places or shallow water. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

LIMNANTHES lacunosum (Floating Heart)—A pretty little aquatic, with small blotched leaves and pure white flowers. 15 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

MENYANTHES trifoliata (Buckbean)—A pretty little plant found growing in moss, with large, pure white flowers, covered on the upper surface with frost-like beards. Fine for the bog garden. 15 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

NELUMBUM intum (Seedlings)—A beautiful aquatic, with large leaves and yellow flowers. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

NUPHAR advena (Common Yellow Lily)—With large leaves and single yellow flowers. 20 cents each, $2 per dozen.

NYMPHEA (Water Lily), odorata (Sweet-Scented Water Lily)—This plant is too generally known to need description. Its large fragrant white flowers are well worth the trouble required in growing them. Where no pond or slow-flowing stream is near at hand, the plant may be grown in a large tub partly filled with rich mud or clay, the roots planted in this and the tub filled with water. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

odorata minor—A variety of the above with smaller leaves and flowers. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

tuberosa—Closely resembles the preceding, but has larger leaves and flowers, and is not fragrant. 30 cents each, $2.50 per dozen.

ORONTIUM aquaticum (Seedlings)—An aquatic, with large, beautiful velvety green leaves on the upper surface, and of a bright silvery white color on the back, flower small, yellow. 15 cents each, 81 cents per dozen.

PELTANDERA Virginica (Water Arum)—Leaves on long petioles, something like a calla in outline with greenish flowers, growing a foot or more out of the water. 15 cents each, 81 cents per dozen.

PONTEDERIA cordata (Pickerel Weed)—Flowers blue. 30 cents each.
Psittacina (Parrot-beaked Pitcher Plant)—Quite small and rare. 25 cents each, $2.25 per dozen.

 rubra (Red Flowered Trumpet-Leaf)—Pitchers red veined and reddish-purple flowers. 25 cents each, $2.25 per dozen.

variolaris—A smaller species from Georgia, with taller and more slender leaves. 25 cents each, $2 per dozen.

SCIRPUS atrovirens (Marsh Sedge)—1 to 3 feet high. Fine for moist or wet places. 15 cents each, $1 per dozen.

SYMPLOCARPUS foetidus—This is one of the earliest of the spring flowers; the covering for the yellow flowers is dull purple, showing above ground before the frost is gone, the large green leaves appearing later and lasting through the season. Desirable for wet places. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

TYPHA latifolia (Cat-tail)—A plant found in wet places, growing 2 to 4 feet high. Leaves long, grass-like. Flowers grown in a spike at the top. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

ORCHIDS.

GOODYERA PUBESCENS.

Among the following will be found a few of our most hardy Orchids, such as may be easily grown. These all like shade at least half or two-thirds of the day, and by planting in a mixture of peat or leaf-mold, in loamy soil or a clay loam, they are easily grown. The mixture of peat or leaf-mold tends to keep them moist. After they are planted, an inch of pure leaf-mold placed over them as a mulch will be very beneficial.

APELECTRUM hyemale (Putty Root)—This plant sends up from a bulbous root, late in summer, a pointed green leaf, 2 to 6 inches long, which lasts through the winter, and in spring a stalk about a foot high, bearing a raceme of rather large greenish brown flowers. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

ARETHUSA bulbosa—One of the most beautiful of our North American Orchids. From a solid bulb resting in moss, throwing up in early summer a single stalk 3 to 12 inches high, on top of which rests a most beautiful and curious large purple flower, or in some cases two flowers. 20 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

CALOPOGON pulchellus—Although this plant is more generally found in swamps and peat bogs, it also frequently grows in moist, sandy soil. It is a small bulb about the size of a large bean, which sends up in spring a long, grass-like leaf and a stalk about a foot high, bearing in June or July, 2 to 6 showy, pink-purple flowers about 1 inch broad. 15 cents each, $1 per dozen.

CALYPSO borealis—A pretty little early blooming Orchid, sending up from a bulb-like root in autumn, a single green leaf about 1 inch long by \(\frac{3}{4}\) of an inch in width. This remains green through the winter and early spring; sends up a short stalk bearing a large, showy, purple-pink and yellow flower. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.
CYPRIPEDIUM acaule (Lady Slipper, Moecasson Flower)—This is often called the Red Lady Slipper, but the flower is rose purple in color. The plant sends up two broad green leaves from the base, and from between them comes a stalk about a foot high bearing a single large, showy flower. 20 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

arietinum (Ram's Head Lady Slipper)—Stem leafy, 6 to 12 inches high, bearing a small, dainty, red, brown and white flower. 30 cents each, $3 per dozen.

candidum (Small White L.)—About the same size as the preceding, bearing a single white flower. 30 cents each, $3 per dozen.

montanum—A beautiful little gem from Oregon, resembling C. candidum, yet generally with more than one flower on a stalk. Give it a protection of leaves in winter. 40 cents each, $3.50 per dozen.

parviflorum (Small Yellow L.)—6 to 8 inches high. Stem leafy, bearing one or more bright yellow flowers. 25 cents each, $1.00 per dozen.

pubesceus—Much resembling the parviflorum, but with larger leaves and flowers. Very easily grown. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

spectabile—This is the largest species we have of this genus, and is by far the most beautiful of them all. The plant is about 2 feet high, leafy throughout, bearing 1 to several large pink, purple and white flowers, 1 1/2 inches long. 50 cents each, $2.75 per dozen.

EPIDENDRUM venosum (Butterfly Orchis)—A tender Orchis found growing on trees in Florida. We have had it bloom in our sitting-room attached to a piece of wood in winter; we have also had good success in growing it through the summer attached to a piece of wood in shade. 25 cents each, $2 per dozen.

GOODYERA pubescens (Rattlesnake Plantain)—8 to 15 inches high. Leaves clustered at the bottom, white, reticulated. Stem leafless, about a foot high, bearing a short spike of white flowers. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

repens—Similar to the last, only smaller. Some specimens have the leaves beautifully mottled. Rare. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

HABENARIA blephariglottis (White Fringed Orchis)—A rare and beautiful species found growing in Sphagnum Moss. 1 to 2 feet high, bearing at the top a spike of pure white fringed flowers. 25 cents each, $1.75 per dozen.

ciliaris (Yellow Fringed Orchis)—Growth similar to the last, but the flowers are yellow. 25 cents each.

dilatata—1 to 3 feet high, flowers pearly white in a long spike. 20 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

umbra (Purple Fringed Orchis)—Grown in wet places. 1 to 3 feet high, with a spike of lilac-purple fringed flowers. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

lacea (Ragged Orchis)—It grows about a foot high in partial shady places, bearing at the top a spike of greenish white flowers. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

psycodes—The flowers are smaller and more crowded than in the last, and deeper purple. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

Hookeri (Two Leaved Orchis)—The plant has two large leaves growing flat on the ground, with a few small greenish flowers growing along the upper part of the stalk. Found in well-drained leaf mould under evergreens. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

obisata—6 to 12 inches high with greenish white flowers. Vermont. 25 cents each, $2 per dozen.

Orbiculata—This plant has 2 large leaves lying flat on the ground, flowers almost white on stalk 1 to 2 feet high. Vermont. 25 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

LIPARIS lilifolia (Twayblade)—About 4 inches high, bearing a short raceme of purplish flowers. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

Loeselii (Green Twayblade)—With greenish flowers. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.
OUR WILD FERNS.

Our Ferns fill a place in our North American flora that is worthy of our careful study. Nature is very generous in her planting, and we find every wooded dell decked with these graceful, flowerless gems. Touching up the landscape along the hillside with great patches of the light green, feely Dicksonia, the dark evergreen Christmas fern beautifying the shady bank, with here and there little clumps or patches of Maiden hair, a single plant of Spinulosum or Marginale to touch up the shading, and the landscape picture is complete. We look along the rock ledge for the Asplenium ebenium and the more common Woodsias, and in the sheltered nook under the ledge for the Trichomanes. A ride along our country highways is more delightful on account of an occasional glimpse of these little silent beauties. Most of the following are of very easy culture and hardly in New England. As a rule they delight in a shady situation, yet a few are adapted for open sunlight.

ADIANUM pedatum (Maiden Hair)—One of the prettiest. It grows about a foot high, bearing at the summit a forked frond composed of slender spreading divisions. 20 cents each. $1.25 per dozen.

ASPIDIUM acrostichoides—An evergreen species, about a foot high, with deep green fronds, simply divided. Although it is one of our common species, it is a pretty one and easily grown: hardly. 25 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.

Aculeatum var. Brunn—A rarer, more local species, growing along the margins of mountain brooks. The fronds are often 2 feet in length by 6 inches in width, chaffy and hairy throughout. 30 cents each, $2.50 per dozen.

cristatum—This species grows from 1 to 2 feet, with fronds about 3 inches wide. 20 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

cristatum var. Clintonianum—In every way larger than the preceding, sometimes a height of 4 feet, with fronds nearly a foot wide. This is a showy fern and not difficult to grow. 25 cents each, $1.75 per dozen.

Boottii—An intermediate fern between cristatum and spinulosum, found sparingly in swamps. 30 cents each, $2 per dozen.

Goldianum—This species often grows 4 feet high, with fronds a foot or more wide. Broadly ovate in outline; deep green in color. One of the most interesting species. 30 cents each, $1.75 per dozen.

Toucitis (Holly Fern)—A beautiful fern, found in rocky places far northward. Fronds very dark green, bristly on the tips, similar in growth to A. acrostichoides. Rare. 30 cents each, $2.25 per dozen.

Marginale—One of our prettiest evergreen species. Fronds 1 to 2 feet in length, 3 to 5 inches wide, thickish, and of a deep green color. Found in rocky places. 20 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.

Noveboracense—A slender species about a foot high, with fronds 3 to 4 inches wide. Pale green, delicate and membranaceous. 20 cents each, $1.15 per dozen.

Spinulosum—A very pretty evergreen species, about 15 inches high, with finely dissected fronds about 4 inches wide. 20 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.

Spinulosum var. dilatatum—Similar to the above but with broader fronds. 25 cents each, $2 per dozen.

Thelypteris—A foot or more high, with fronds about 2½ inches wide. 20 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.
ASPENLUM Filix-femina—Grows from 1 to 3 feet. Fronds ovate, oblong in outline; the foliage fine and delicate. Moist soil. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

angustifolium—Grows 1 to 3 feet high, with simply divided fronds; these divisions are 3 to 4 inches long. Rich, moist woods. 25 cents each, $1.35 per dozen.

ebenium—Usually 6 to 15 inches high, with fronds 1/2 to 3/2 of an inch in width. Crevices of shaded cliffs. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

thelypteroides—Fronds 2 to 3 feet high by 6 inches wide. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

Trichomanes—A small, delicate little fern with narrow fronds 3 to 6 inches long. Usually grows under moss, shaded cliffs. 20 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.

viride—2 to 4 inches high, in shaded alpine cliffs. Fruit more collected than in the above, and fronds more upright. Rather rare. 25 cents each.

BOTRYCHIUM Virginicum (Moon-wort)—Tall and ample, divided into two segments above the middle, one of which is erect, bearing the frond; the other spreading, triangular, membraneous and much divided. Shades. 30 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

ternatum—6 to 12 inches high. Fronds evergreen. Somewhat resembling the preceding, but smaller and less divided. Open sun. 20 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

CAMPSTOSORUS rhizophyllus (Walking Leaf)—A little low creeping Fern, with evergreen fronds, 4 to 9 inches long, growing in tufts. The ends of these fronds rest on the ground and take root, forming new plants. Found growing naturally on shaded, calcareous rocks. 20 cents each, $1.30 per dozen.

CHEILANTHES vestata—A beautiful little evergreen Fern, found in rocky places Southward. 20 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

CRYPTOGAMME acrostichoides—A small fern about 8 inches high. A native of the Pacific coast. 20 cents each.

CYSTOPTERIS bulbifera (Bladder Fern)—Fronds 1 to 2 feet long, narrow and slender. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

fragilis—Smaller. 4 to 8 inches high. Two or three times divided. 15 cents each, $1.10 per dozen.

DICKSONIA punctilobula—Grows 2 to 3 feet high. Fronds pale green, very thin, with strong stalks from a slender, creeping root-stalk. Easily grown. Open sun or shade. 20 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.

LYCOPODIUM lucidulum (Shining Club Moss) A pretty little evergreen, 3 to 8 inches high. Leaves 1/2 inch long, growing thickly along the stalk. Moist soil. 20 cents each, $1.25 per dozen.

LYGODIUM palmatum (Climbing Fern) —Grows 1 to 3 feet high. Stalk slender and twining, from a slender running root-stalk. I can supply extra fine plants of this, nursery grown. 25 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.

MARCHANTIA (Liverwort)—Fine for forming a green covering for rocks or soil around plants. 15 cents each, $1 per doz.

ONOCLEA sensibilis (Sensitive Fern)—1 to 2 feet. 20 cents each, $1.20 per dozen.

Struthiopteris (Ostrich Fern)—Fertile fronds about a foot high; sterile fronds much larger, 1 to 5 feet high, 6 to 10 inches wide, erect. A very handsome species. Graceful as a palm on the lawn in open sun. 35 cents each, $1.75 per dozen.

Ophioglossum vulgatum (Adder's Tongue Fern)—A single leaf from yellow fibrous roots, bearing at the top a singular spike of fruit or spores. 15 cents each, $1 per dozen.

OSMUNDA regalis (Flowering Fern)—2 to 3 feet high. Pale green. One of the prettiest ferns. 30 cents each, $1.50 per dozen.
